

Testosterone In The House

Ulisses Larramendi
Episode 6

Synopsis

Ulises Larramendi discusses the joys and challenges that come with raising three boys, and each experience that includes -testosterone. He gives his perspective on what he believes to be the most important message when raising boys.

deeper reflections

- If you didn't grow up in a household with a boy(s), where or whom have you looked to better understand them?
- Why do you think a significant male role model is so important for a boy(s)?
- What characteristics are most important when raising a boy(s)
- Do you feel you were prepared to be a DAD when raising a boy(s)? Why or why not?
- What challenges can you identify with-while parenting a boy(s)?
- Have you acknowledged where the role of a mom can help support with these challenges?

Ulises Larramendi is a Cuban-born American citizen who loves God and freedom. He is grateful to be adopted by America, where he can have both. Ulises has been in the restaurant business all his life, from washing dishes in HS to owning Eden Cafe, in Magnolia, TX for 15 years. He is passionate about the arts, film and theater in particular. Has been blessed to be involved in several stage productions during college, and recently in Christian films that he prays are changing lives. Ulises is married to the love of his life Maria for almost 30 years, and proud dad of 3 sons, Alex, Eric, and Joshua.