QUARTERLY MIND BODY & SPIRIT NEWSLETTER

We hope you are surviving winter and that you are all trying to take in as much Vitamin D as is needed to help you smile more throughout the entire winter! Most Minnesotans are Vitamin D deprived so it is not uncommon for many to get the blues during the cold months. So do yourself a favor and either have your D checked or increase it a bit just to help out a bit!

Ok, now that my wellness tip is over I would like to help some with something else that seems to be increasing. We have a lot of people calling in to ask us who they should see as an intuitive (psychic or reader is synonymous), or someone to do energy work, and as some of you may have found out....we will not help you with this except to tell you prices and logistics if we can! Choosing an intuitive for yourself is one of those things in life you need to do alone! We will not answer the top two questions that so many ask, "Who do you recommend for me?" and "Who is good?". First of all, who is good cannot be answered by us. They all are good and they are all bad if not matched to what you need at the time. In other words it is a bit like card readings. Ten people could get the same ten cards come up in a reading, same layout and exact cards. Is the reading the same? Absolutely no way! What comes to you or what comes to the intuitive using the cards is always going to contain what it is that you need at the time for you to decide upon. Cards come up for a reason, whether to give right information or wrong information they are brought to us for a reason. And they are read differently depending on who it is for, etc. And then it is up to us what we do with the information. If something does not resonate than leave it behind! Nothing is ever set in stone! We get the information so that we can make decisions about happenings and what we would like from those happenings, good or bad.

Not all intuitives use cards, it was just an example, but even without using cards a reading could be very different even if the same messages came to the intuitive while doing a reading with two different people. The point is that the message is for you. But there are still those who will insist that they have had a bad reading in the past with someone somewhere out there and so they don't want the same thing to happen and yet they still want guidance. If you are in that space, you should probably wait to get any reading. The reason I say this is not to protect the intuitive, they can handle themselves and know the processing that some have to do in order for readings to go well. The reason a reading goes well or does not go well has a great deal to do with the person having the reading. If you do not trust yourself, that is not a way to start out having a reading with ANYONE! Once you know you can make the right decisions for yourself on an intuitive, it will all come together for you and the reading will be wonderful. You now have the power to choose what you need from the reading, decipher what fits for now, and you have the knowledge already inside of you to throw away the rest or keep it in mind for later.

You might have, in your opinion, a "good" reading or a "bad" reading. But whatever kind of reading you have, if you remember that you received it because it was what you needed for now, it will always be a good decision regardless of which intuitive you chose, or who the Universe nudged you to choose. Now you won't have to ask "Who should you see?" Instead ask, how am I going to receive my information and what will I do with it? Now you are ready! Until next time,

Happy, informative, insightful, sometimes aggravating, but always powerful, readings to all!
Namaste,
Joan and Merri

AMETHYST

If there were just one rock, stone, or crystal that I would say everyone would love to have I would say Quartz. And amethyst is the purple quartz. The other most common in the family of quartz is clear (sometimes called crystal quartz), citrine (the yellow quartz), Smokey Quartz (the mostly clear yet smoky colored one), and the pink colored, highly appreciated and loved Rose Quartz. But for now I will focus on the easily recognized but not completely understood amethyst.

I have written about amethyst before. It is probably the most correctly identified crystal, with pyrite (fool's gold) ranking a very close second! It is curious how so many know this crystal? I believe amethyst is chosen often and is admired so much, not just for its beauty, but for the peace it seems to bring wherever it is placed. It is a crystal offering a peaceful experience for most except those that are dealing with some type of addiction, especially alcohol. I myself have witnessed those struggling with addictions want to return amethyst to us as it was giving them headaches and causing irritation. Amethyst in Greek means "not drunk" and it had been the sobriety stone for Greeks back before the time that Christ lived. With all of that intentional energy given it on top of its already strong vibration no wonder it is difficult for those with addictions! But it doesn't just cause problems for those with addictions as it is simply running at a frequency that could help the afflicted but sometimes an addict is not ready for help and so it can be a bad combination. But if one is ready it couldn't be a better crystal to carry around. It will assist with the tenacity to continue to battle addictions as well as connect the bearer to their Higher Power for assistance.

The assistance to connect us to our Higher Power more fully is the star attribute of the amethyst. Whether in meditation with an amethyst crystal, having it simply with us in a room of prayer, or carrying it with us daily as a constant link, there is nothing better for our heart and soul to create easier connection to God, Buddha, Allah, Jesus, or our own Inner Knowing to help us with life's journey. This ease in connection was shown to us by the Alchemist St. Germain and it has been coined the Violet Flame. The Violet Flame simply put is the Alchemy of change a human goes through to becoming a Divine Human. This Divine Human then becomes the Violet Flame. The amethyst crystal holds within its vibration the alchemical energies to assist human beings with this process. Another word for this change is to obtain the Christ Consciousness. This is not affiliated with any particular dogma, just Divinity and Higher Vibration, but quite coincidentally the higher ranking Bishops within the Catholic Church will usually be seen wearing a ring with an amethyst as its center piece. Not only was the amethyst mentioned in the bible but it has been rumored to have been originally put into Bishop's rings for not only the Divine energy of the ring but also for "protection". And the amethyst has been worn for this reason as well many times accompanied by a smoky quartz. Amethyst has been worn for spiritual protection for Pagans and Christians alike. It doesn't discriminate; its vibration and healing are for all.

The three main alchemical changes Amethyst can bring to you are: a higher vibration, protection and strength against addictions. However, one cannot say these are the only attributes of Amethyst any more than you could say you have seen the Grand Canyon by standing on the rim. Many healing properties are attributed to the amethyst. It is a well-known aid for peaceful sleep. When kept in the bedroom, Amethyst encourages the brain to let go or rest. Amethyst changes the beta waves, we use all day, into alpha waves which bring restful sleep.

The amethyst is not just another collection piece to make a home more beautiful. It is the crystal to go to when in doubt about any assistance needed. It will help you link to your higher power so that you may find the guidance you need to find your answers. Take home a beautiful amethyst today and begin your journey.
