Nuggets of News and Knowledge

Feb / March 2019

Whether you are new to gold prospecting or an experienced old-timer, whether you have just started swinging a metal detector or have been digging targets for years, get the most out of treasure hunting with these nuggets of news and knowledge— tips, ideas, new products and more!

Spring 2019 Gold & Treasure Shows

Did you know... there is actually more gold still out there waiting to be found today than the old-timers ever recovered way back in the 1800s gold rush era? And did you also know that attending a GPAA -- Gold Prospector's Association of America -- Gold and Treasure Show is a great place to get started on your modern day treasure hunt?!

Browse the show floor to find the latest and greatest gold mining and metal detecting equipment, see product demos, attend free seminars, ask questions of the pros, and enter to win thousands of dollars in door prizes. Also on the show floor are panning troughs for both kids and adults where you can pan for gold— and keep all you find! Saturday show hours 10 am - 5 pm and Sundays 10 am - 4 pm in these cities:

- Phoenix, AZ: March 2-3, Arizona Expo & State Fair
- Fresno, CA: March 9-10, Fresno State Fairgrounds
- Puyallup, WA: March 23-24, Washington State Fair Events Center
- Portland, OR: March 30-31, Portland Expo Center
- Denver, CO: April 13-14, National Western Complex
- Ft Worth, TX: May 4-5, Will Rogers Memorial Center

Visit the GPAA website for details and to buy your $5 adult tickets; kids 12 and under plus military and veterans with ID are free. If you can, make a family road trip out of attending one or more of the shows this spring. In addition to the show itself, each city has fun touristy things to do, and if you're a GPAA member, you can visit nearby mining claims. By attending a show, you're sure to have a blast,

Nugget of Knowledge

Culverts of Gold

If you live in a known gold-bearing region or will visit there, here's a "where to find gold" tip you might not have thought about before: roadway culverts. Culverts under roadways are natural traps for gold. The corrugation of the galvanized sheet metal creates turbulence, causing the gold to settle. Process the material collected in the first 3 to 4 feet of the culvert opening. Also check the area to the right, left, and below the entry of the culvert. A wide flow will strike the culvert abutments and cause the gold to settle out at the mouth.

SALE EXTENDED! Garrett AT Max Metal Detector with Z-Lynk + FREE Pro Pointer

Best used in conjunction with a full-size metal detector, a pinpointer is simply a hand-held wand that's used to focus in (or "pinpoint") your target. No one wants to waste time digging giant holes, so instead, use a pin pointer to help unearth metal items located by your larger detector. Shop pinpointers here.

Rock Crushers Help You Get the Gold

Whether you need a manual rock crusher or a motorized version, a rock crusher can be an invaluable tool if it has been designed and built by miners for miners! Tough machines built well and rigorously tested in the field means less work for you. Browse rock crushers.

History Nugget: Old Town Auburn, CA

California State Highway 49, also known as the Gold Rush Highway, winds its way through a nine-county area that in the mid 1800s was home to more than 2,500 gold mining camps. Most of those camps disappeared after the gold ran out, but a few communities survived and even thrived. Auburn is one such city, and is worth a stop to stroll through its Old Town.

Auburn was put on the map in 1849 by Claude Chana, who is credited with making the first gold discovery in this area. The Frenchman originally worked as a cooper for John Sutter when James Marshall discovered gold in nearby Coloma, the birthplace of the California Gold Rush. Like many other men bitten by the gold bug, the Frenchman quit his job at Sutter Mill to search for the shiny stuff. But unlike many men, his gamble paid off and he quickly recovered $25,000 worth of gold in Auburn Ravine. Chana is memorialized by a monument you'll see upon entering Old Town from Interstate 80. The sculptor, Dr. Kenneth Fox, was a local dentist in Auburn and is famous

Getting through a crisis situation is made easier by being properly prepared with food, water, tools, lighting, heat sources, basic medical supplies, and sanitation. Having high quality, reliable emergency survival kits at home and in your car can make a significant difference to you and your family (including kids and pets) as you wait for things to return to "normal" or for help to arrive. Since emergencies can arise at any time, being prepared in advance is key. Browse a wide variety of Survival Kits here.
